Reuters: BP disaster will slow Gulf states' recovery

July 16, 2010

From Reuters, July 16, 2010

> In Louisiana, the Gulf state most reliant on energy businesses, the economic costs of the federal moratorium on deepwater oil drilling, in place through November 30, will be severe and long lasting, according to Eric Smith, associate director of Tulane University's Energy Institute.

To read the entire article, visit reuters.com

http://www.reuters.com/article/idUSTRE66E5M120100716?type=domesticNews