Research Notes: Prof. Jennifer Merluzzi

January 7, 2013

Jennifer Merluzzi is the co-author of “Embedded Brokerage,” which will appear as a chapter in the upcoming book Research in the Sociology of Organizations (Cambridge, Mass: Emerald Group). The article, co-authored with Ronald S. Burt, Hobart W. Williams Professor of Sociology and Strategy at the University of Chicago, discusses the complementary relationship between status and access to structural holes in the context of network advantage. Merluzzi is an assistant professor of management at Tulane University’s A. B. Freeman School of Business
