Research Notes: Robert Hansen

September 3, 2015

Robert Hansen's discussion "What is the value of sell-side analysts? Evidence from coverage changes," originally presented at the 2014 Journal of Accounting & Economics Conference in Philadelphia, is now forthcoming in the Journal of Accounting and Economics. The conference is an annual presentation of the accounting department of the Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania. Hansen is the Francis Martin Chair in Business and professor of finance at the A. B. Freeman School of Business.