WalletHub: Ask the Experts - Jumbo Money Market Accounts

July 17, 2024

Dave Lesmond, Exxon Professor in Business and associate professor of finance, was featured in a WalletHub "Ask the Experts" Q&A on jumbo money market accounts.

> People often lose out on interest by not seeking alternatives to local providers of money market accounts. For instance, local banks may offer money market assets, but at a greatly reduced rate from that offered by banks in other states. The reasoning is convenience tops return. Searching the internet for bank rates will provide a comprehensive guide for available rates.
