WDSU News: Feast For Less: How to trim your Thanksgiving budget

November 11, 2026

Mark Ratchford, professor of practice in marketing, was interviewed by WDSU News about what items are likely to cost more for Thanksgiving celebrations this year.

> "In terms of items that will be more expensive this year, almost certainly vegetables. Especially fresh vegetables," said Tulane University business professor Mark Ratchford.

To read the story in its entirety, visit wdsu.com:

https://www.wdsu.com/article/feast-for-less-how-to-trim-your-thanksgiving-budget/74377430